What do cows dream about?

Do cows have their own dreams?
Lets try to answer this question in detail.

So, cows. We all know them very well.

*But, do we know
what cows
dream
about?*

In order to answer this question we invited a well-known mind reader. And this is what he told us.

It turned out that many cows dream about...

*...a great relaxation on the beach.
Alone...*

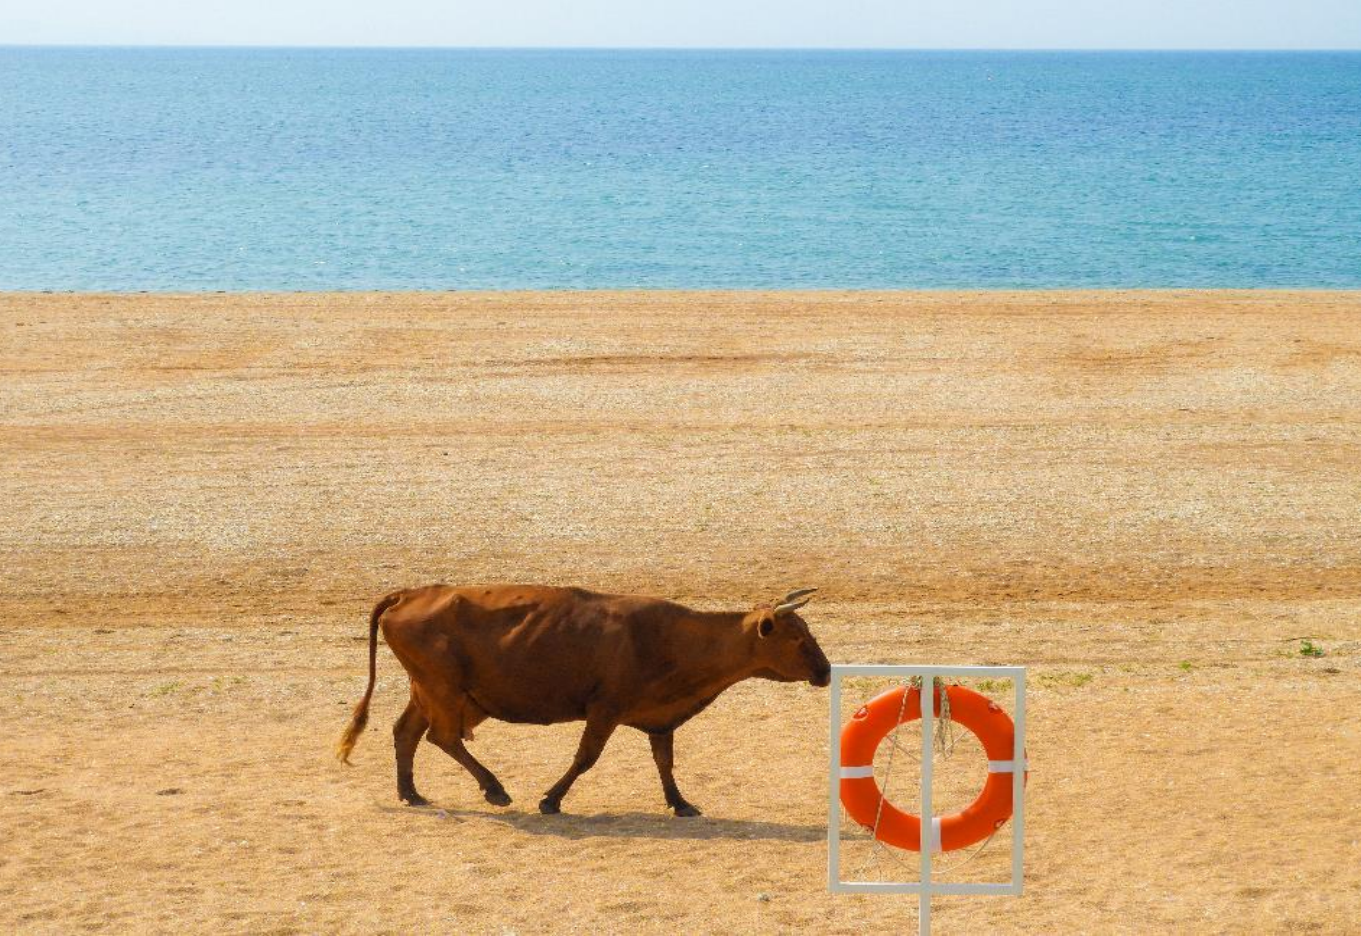

...or with their families.

*Of course,
nobody
allows them
at the beach. But they have
such a great
desire that they are ready to take serious
risks*

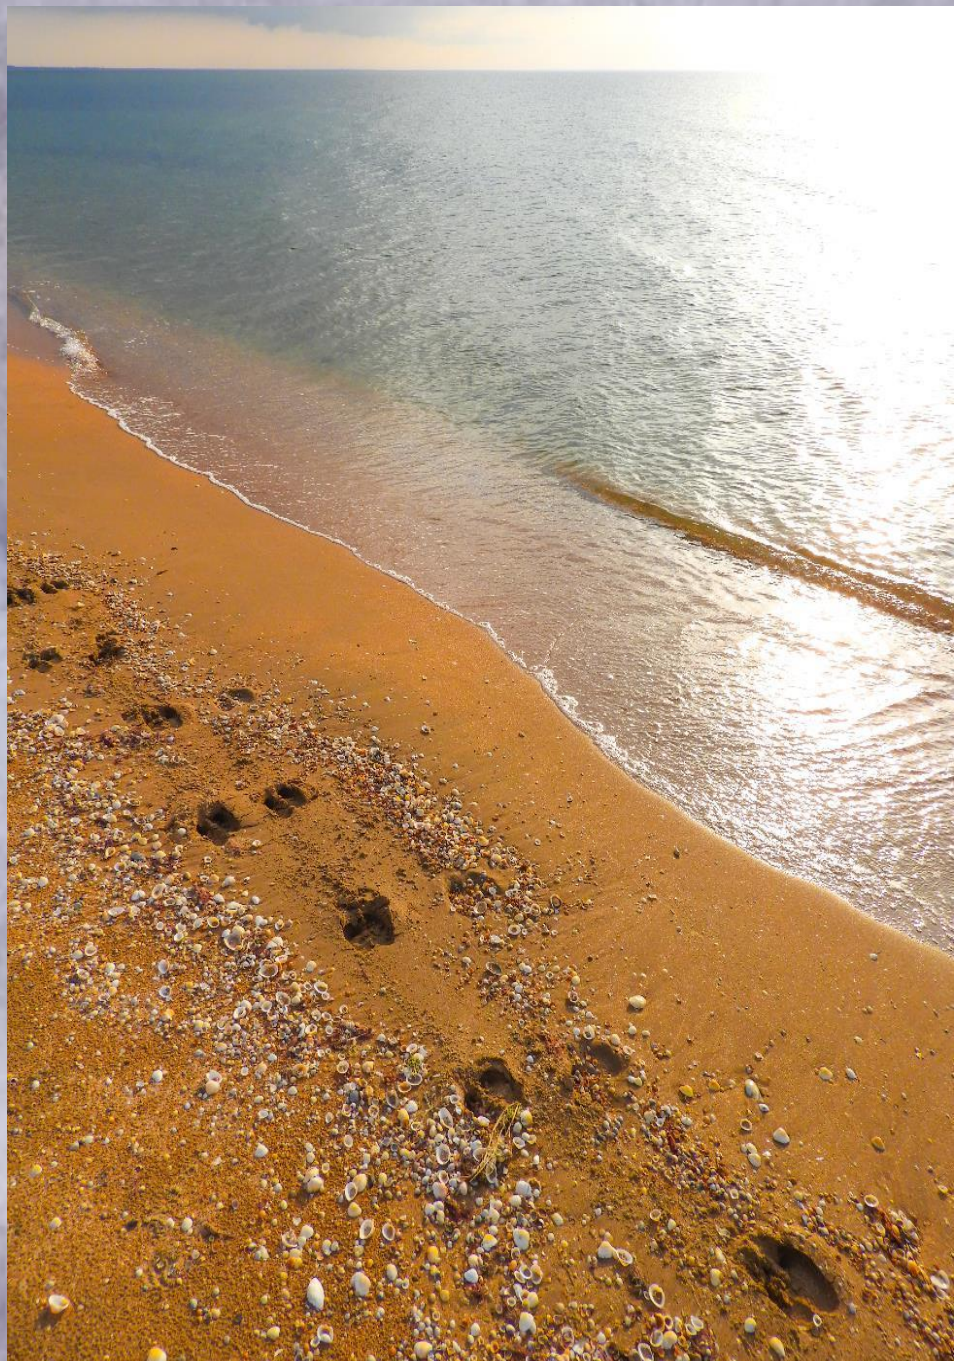

On the beach, cows are a little embarrassed by the small size of the changing cabins,

... and the shape of a lifebuoy that does not take their horns into account ...

However, all these things are nothing compared to the pleasure that cows get from walking along the edge of the sea.

The second dream of cows is to have their own housing. They are already tired of living in cowsheds and fields.

Cows have been dreaming about their houses for a long time ,

...or, at least about their own trailers (if the entrance will be expanded).

Now, let's consider the dreams of different herd groups separately. Almost all bulls dream about becoming famous in their main job.

And, in such a way that would leave their mark in history.

*The
desires of cows are more
discom-
bobulated*

*Some of them want to decorate the

Others are sick and tired of drinking ordinary water,

*...and they want to
drink
something
interesting.*

*Active cows
want to
create some kind of “League of Cows” with their own
emblem and
anthem.*

Important looking cows always want to be bigger than bulls.

However, the desire of cows to simply give milk is sometimes still present.

Completely different dreams were revealed among the young cows. They already want to drink coffee without milk,

... they do not like to strain,

... they like parties,

... they like to do cool designs on their foreheads,

*... and they
are ready to
endlessly
watch the
"Iron Horns"
series.*

Well, that's basically all that we learned about the dreams of cows.

Oh yeah, and most importantly! More than anything, cows dream to grow people who would fulfill all their desires ...
