*Of course, absolutely every creature
on this earth has a purpose in life.*

Let's try to find it.

We will start with fish.

*The purpose in life for big fish –
eat all the little ones.
The purpose in life for little fish –
not to get eaten by the big ones*

Now birds.

*Their purpose in life
is to fly gracefully,*

...to scratch themselves elegantly,

*...and to look down
upon their neighbors.*

*The local elite
can even puff out...*

...and deflate their beautiful cheeks.

Oh, yes! They have to lay eggs so that later they have someone whom they can teach all this.

*The purpose in life
of a tree kangaroo...*

*...is not to embarrass itself
by falling out of a tree.*

*The purpose in life
of all donkeys...*

*...is to envy those
more smart.*

*The purpose in life
of a koala...*

...is not to exert itself.

*The purpose in life
of all crabs...*

...is to party.

*The purpose in life
of dragons...*

...is to hang on!

For sea lions their purpose in life is...

...to get a decent sleep.

*The purpose in life
of a crocodiles ...*

*...well
it's pretty obvious.*

*The purpose in life
of penguins...*

...is not to freeze.

What about people's purpose in life?

*People do so many
very different,*

*...and often
contradictory
things,*

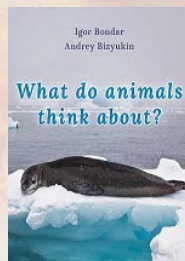

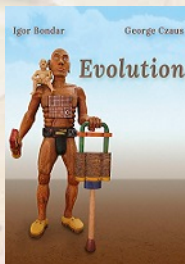

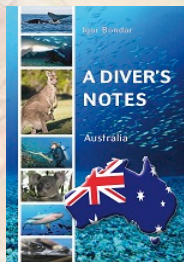

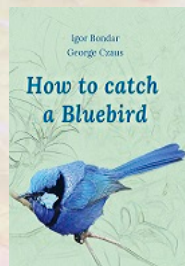

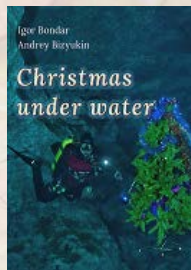

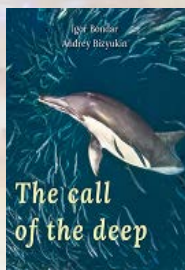

*...that we have not yet
realized what it is.*
